

MATTHEW ROLSTON: Photographer Royale

By Music of Our Heart Editorial

I love to report on and own music photography books. This book, Hollywood Royale from photographer Matthew Rolston caught my eye today.

Matthew Rolston started his career as a "discovery" of Andy Warhol for Interview magazine.

Soon after, he began shooting covers and editorial assignments for founding editor Jann Wenner of Rolling Stone, as well as for other established publications such as Harper's Bazaar, Vogue, Esquire, Cosmopolitan, and The New York Times.
